FAQ

Q: What is your style of hair and makeup for lifestyle shoots?

A: My style is soft, natural, and timeless. I focus on enhancing your natural features so you feel like yourself—comfortable, confident, and beautifully polished for the camera.

Q: Should I book hair and makeup for a lifestyle shoot?

A: Professional hair and makeup help you feel relaxed and confident in front of the camera, ensuring you look refreshed and put-together in images you'll treasure for years.

Q: How long does hair and makeup take for a lifestyle shoot?

A: Allow approximately 1.5–2 hours for hair and makeup, depending on the look and hair length.

Q: Do you offer mobile services for lifestyle shoots?

A: Yes, lifestyle hair and makeup can be done at my home-based salon or on location at your home, studio, or shoot venue. Travel fees may apply depending on distance.

Q: How does dermaplaning help before a lifestyle shoot?

A: Dermaplaning smooths the skin and removes peach fuzz, helping makeup apply evenly and photograph beautifully. It's ideal 1–2 weeks before your shoot.

Q: Why are brow lamination and a lash lift good for lifestyle shoots?

A: Brow lamination creates fuller, well-shaped brows, while a lash lift enhances your natural lashes, giving a polished look without heavy makeup—perfect for natural lifestyle imagery.

Q: Should I get eyelash extensions for a lifestyle shoot?

A: Eyelash extensions are a great option if you'd like extra definition without strip lashes. They're especially popular for maternity and branding shoots.

Q: Is a spray tan recommended for lifestyle shoots?

A: Yes, a light, natural spray tan can even out skin tone and add a healthy glow that photographs beautifully. A trial tan is recommended if it's your first time.

Q: When should I book my pre-shoot treatments?

A: Dermaplaning 1–2 weeks before, brows and lashes 5–7 days before, eyelash extensions 2–3 days before, and your spray tan 2 days before your shoot.
